gel Fernandez off the Ward line steamer to Havana to enforce a demand for reparation, and war between this country and Spain would have undoubtedly resulted.

For five hours last Friday the United States and Spain were on the brink of episode. According to the letter, when the Vigilancia put into Havana the Spanish authorities demanded the surrender of Senor Angel Fernandez, a Mexican on board the vessel. The Spaniards alleged that Fernandez was not a Mexican, but a subject of Spain. Captain John McIntosh, of the Vigitancia, refused to surrender rernandez. Then the Spanish authorities told McIntosh that if the Vigliancia attempted to go to sea with Fernandez on board she would be sunk by the guns of Morro Castle. Captain McIntosh immediately laid the matter before Consul-general Lce, Who complimented the Captain on his bravery and told him to take the Vigilancia to sea when he pleased. Consul Lee was greatly enraged at the threat to sink the Vigilancia and is reported to have said to Captain McIntosh: "If the guns of Morro Castle sink your ship American war ships will be bombarding Havana in a few days." Captain McIntosh returned to the Vigilancia and Consul Lee informed Weyler that the vessel was going to sea, and that if any attempt was made to take off Fernandez or that if the yessel was fired upon Spain must take the consequences. Weyler immediately summoned a cabinet council, and while this council was considering the matter the Vigilancia began to weigh anenor. The Spanish officials on board protested, but Captain McIntosh said in vigorous language, the letter states: D--n your objections; my ship has been cleared. My consul has told me to go to sea. I am going and I dare you to try to prevent me. Get off my ship," and with that the Yankee roughly shoved the Spaniards into the waiting boats and the Vigilancia, flying the stars and stripes, started for the ments have any significance as affecting the relations between Spain and the United mouth of the harbor, which is commanded by the guns of Morro Castle. All was excitement in Havana and the quays and housetops were lined with hundreds of persons, who expected to see the Vigilancia fired upon. Consul Lee himself watched the Vigilancia through a glass. Meanwhile signals were being exchanged between Weyler's palace and Morro Castle, and in the latter place there were signs of great excitement. Slowly the Vigilancia entered noticed that the guns of Morro were turned signaled Morro Castle: "I am going to the Supreme Court. sea," but no answer came from the fort until the vessel was in blue water, and then the Spaniards ran up the signal

It is said that Weyler is furious over the departure of the vessel and Consul Lee's course. It is stated Weyler ordered the commandant of Morro to sink the Vigilancia, but that at the last moment he yielded to the entreaties of his cabinet and countermanded the order. The episode caused more excitement in Hayana than anything since the beginning of the war,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.-It is intimated in official circles here that, although no regular formal leave has yet been issued to Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, to absent himself that he has arranged the business of the consul-generalship so that it may be safely left, for a time at least, to the care of Mr. Springer, the energetic vice consulgeneral. It is expected, therefore, that he will soon pay a visit to his home in Richmond. It is understood from the same sources that General Lee is in no respect dissatisfied with his office, or with the relations that now exist between himself and the authorities at Havana, but he has undergone a trying and particularly unhealthful season at Havana, while engaged in the discharge of onerous duties, and feels the need of recuperation. The visit will, of course, afford an opportunity for Secretary Olney to confer with General Lee as to the present aspect of affairs on the island, but further than above stated it cannot be gathered that the consul-general's move-

COMMON SENSE AND CURRENCY.

Belief that an International Paper Currency Would Settle Difficulties.

Albion W. Tourgee, in North American Review. It is eminently fit that the American peo ple, the richest in productive capacity and the most notable in development and experience, should lead the world in applying ason and common sense to questions cr currency and finance rather than mere the ory and hypothesis, based on infirm spec-ulation in regard to the relative value of two metals, a fact which depends chiefly apon the supply of each; instead of maun-tering about "the beneficence of God which has supplied these two great coin metals o serve as the foundation of every wellregulated currency," or claiming, on the other hand, that "the only secure basis for assured prosperity lies in a currency every part of which is at all times exchangeable for or redeemable in gold." which proposition is too absurd to be termed a falsehood, being one of those which men assert to be true until they come to believe them, however impossible hat may be. There never has been in modern times an hour when the credit currency of any nation was "exchangeable and redeemable in gold, and probably never will be." What is true, and it is all that any man can safely affirm, is that there are periods during which the popular confidence in the currency of different nations has been so great that all forms of money authorized by law are regarded with equal favor as medium of exchange -whether gold, silver, copper or paper-because each man believes that his neighbor will accept what he himself receive for anything that he may wish to sel and that as much of it as may be presented for payment will be redeemed as stipulated. The best foundation for the credit curof a great nation is the national The only question to be determined is whether that credit shall be used di-rectly by paying interest to the users of currency, or indirectly by paying a much higher rate of interest to the holders of onds on which a substitute currency shall based. As long as a nation's credit is good its legal-tender notes, bearing never so low a rate of interest, will be equal with gold in desirability and better than gold as they approach maturity; and such a currency is three or four times cheaper than one based on bonds. Gold serves its true purpose as an ultimate standard of value, but as a medium of exchange, inerest-bearing treasury notes of the United States would easily rank as the best cur rency which civilization has yet devised. That there will some time be an international paper currency, upheld by the guaranty of several of the leading nations of the world, is more than probable. surrency would do more than all the ships bitration put together to preserve the peace f the world.

REFUGEES AT ELLIS ISLAND

NEARLY 200 EXILES FROM ARMENIA SEEKING HOMES HERE.

A Few Permitted to Land, but Others Detained Awaiting Action of the Immigration Authorities.

LONDON, Oct. 19.-St. James Hall was packed with an audience of 2,000 people tonight, a large proportion of whom were women, to take part in the demonstration of protest against the Armenian massacres. Nearly 7,000 people applied for admission to the hall. The Bishop of Rochester presided instead of the Duke of Westminster, who wrcte, regretting that ill health compelled him to be absent. The Earl of Portsmouth, the Earl of Meath, Baron Abingor, Baron Bendel, Viscount Oxenbridge, the Earl of Stamford, the Bishop of Winchester, the Bishop of Hereford, the Bishop of Aberdeen, Right Hon. James Brice, Rev. Harry R. Drew and Mrs. Drew (Mr. Gladstone's daughter), Canon Wilberforce, Canon Maccoll. Sir Lewis Morris, Rev Dr. John Clifford and Rev. Dr. Guiness Rogers sat upon the platform. Ten peers, twenty-eight bishops and a number of deans and Nonconformist agreement he writes his name on his arm ministers wrote, expressing their regret at their inability to attend the meeting.

Intense enthusiasm was manifested by those present, especially over the reading of a letter from Mr. Gladstone. In this letter Mr. Gladstone expressed the hope that the meeting would worthily crown the Armenian meetings of the past two months which, he said, were without a parallel during his political life. The great object, Mr. Gladstone said further, was to strengthen Lord Salisbury's hands to stop disclosed the plot to a priest, who divulged the series of massacres, which was proba-bly still unfinished, and to provide against their renewal. As he believed that Lord priests were cognizant of the arrangements, Salisbury would use his powerful position for the best, personally he objected in the strongest manner to abridging Lord Salis-bury's discretion by laying down this or that as things which he ought not to do. ARMENIAN REFUGEES. Batch of 167 Held at Ellis Island Pending Investigation

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 .- One hundred and sixty-seven Armenians who embarked at Bolougne arrived on the steamship Obdam to-day and were at once transferred to Ellis island, where they were examined by the health authorities and the inspector of teen, including husband, wife, children uncle, aunt and cousin. The Armenians as ing and did not appear to have suffered Ellis island by representatives of the Sal-Christian Temperance Union, a representative of the Red Cross Society and several charitably disposed persons. On their arrival at Ellis island they were grouped and photographed and interviewed by repre-sentatives of the Christian Herald.

A protest from the residents and tax-payers of Hohokus, Bergen coun-ty, New Jersey, was presented to Dr. Senner, Commissioner of Immigration at Ellis island, signed by a committee consisting of Saul B. Moffatt, Fred Shilling and John Y. General Booth Tucker is expected to speak in behalf of the refugees. Dr. Senner is not in a position to state whether the 167 refugees would be admitted to the country or sent back. He will reserve his decision until he has heard both sides and may possloly refer the matter to the Secretary of Twenty-eight men and two women who had a few dollars each and who were considered desirable persons were "admitted"

New Turkish Minister. WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.-Moustapha Tahsin Bey, the new Turkish minister, arrived here to-day and was met by Mavroyeni Bey, the retiring minister, and the officials of the legation. The hour was too late to permit the presentation of his credentials to Secretary Olney and this ceremony and his meeting with the President will occur to-morrow. The usual exchange of salutations is being awaited with more than passing interest, owing to the ques-tions pending between the United States and Turkey. In diplomatic circles the reent sensational reports as to the purpose of the United States toward Turkey are discredited and it is said that neither the authorities here nor at Constantinople are disposed to push affairs to the point of a rupture. The new minister's address to the President, it is understood, will be in a most friendly strain, and there is no reason to believe the response will be less friendly. Mavroyeni Bey expects to return to Constantinople at an early day.

NATIVES OF PHILIPPINE ISLANDS SEEKING INDEPENDENCE,

And Worrying Spaniards More than the Dons Admit-The Revolutionists Well Armed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.-Advices by the steamer Peru from Singapore and Hong Kong up to Sept. 27 say that the rebellion in the Philippine islands is much more serious than has been generally recognized. It is said the reports of revolutionist defeats sent out by Spanish officers have been greatly exaggerated and that so far the rebels have more than held their own in the struggle for independence. It is stated the revolution is now beyond the control of the Spanish authorities and that unless reinforcements are sent to Manilla immediately the Spanish forces are in danger of final defeat. The rebels now hold the province of Cavite, are well organized and have eight thousand Mauser rifles, There are many natives in the Spanish troops and the officers are afraid to take native regiments into the interior because their loyalty is doubted.

The Hong Kong Press says editorially that there is no longer room for the least doubt that affairs in the philippine islands will in a short time assume the proportions of the Cuban rebellion. The natives are determined. As each rebel signs an
